

the lookout for new, exciting pop-ups, openings and events. Each week, we get the inside track on exciting things to do in London for the upcoming weekend to help us discover a new area of the city or explore a new address in a neighbourhood we (thought) we'd already uncovered.

31 best things to do in London this weekend

1. Pick up glittery goods

The Cluster Jewellery Art Fair returns for its fourth edition at Chelsea Old Town Hall this weekend, transforming the space into a glittery, crafty haven. Discover exquisite designs from over 60 contemporary jewellery artists, including Samokish, Namkuyung Lee, Monica Nesseler and Ellina Pollitt.

Address: Chelsea Old Town Hall, King's Road, London SW3 5EE

Website: cluster-london.com

Dates: Thursday 21 March - Saturday 23 March; 12pm - 8pm

Price: £100 per person
Dates: Tuesday 19 March

Print Fair, Somerset House Oisín Byrne, Cut Flowers 2023

6. Get hands-on at an art fair

This week, the London Original Print Fair is back at Somerset House for its 39th edition. London's longest-running art fair unites more than forty international dealers, publishers, and studios to celebrate the art of original printmaking in all of its forms. Expect creations from the world's most renowned artists and emerging talent, inspiring industry talks, live demonstrations, and two curated exhibitions, including a tribute to British Pop Art pioneer Joe Tilson.

Address: Somerset House, Strand, London WC2R 1LA

Website: londonoriginalprintfair.com

Price: Full price tickets, £18; concessions and child tickets available

Dates: Thursday 21 - Sunday 24 March